Doctors

Hearing Problem

A man goes to his doctor and says, "I don't think my wife's hearing is as good as it used to be. What should I do?"

The doctor replies, "Try this test to find out for sure. When your wife is in the kitchen doing dishes, stand fifteen feet behind her and ask her a question, if she doesn't respond keep moving closer, asking the question until she hears you."

The man goes home and sees his wife preparing dinner. He stands fifteen feet behind her and says, "What's for dinner, honey?" He gets no response, so he moves to ten feet behind her and asks again. Still no response, so he moves to five feet. Still no answer. Finally he stands directly behind her and says, "Honey, what's for dinner?" She replies, "For the fourth time, I SAID WE ARE HAVING CHICKEN!"

Mad Doctor

When does a doctor get mad?

When he runs out of patients!

Time to Live

An older fellow is talking to his doctor. He asks the doc,

“How long do I have?”

“10”

“10 what?”

“9”

“8”...

Bad News

At the doctor’s office, Tom is getting a check up.

“I have good news and bad news,” says the doctor. “The good news is you have 24 hours left to live.”

Tom replies, “That’s the good news?!”

The doctor says, “The bad news is I should have told you that yesterday.”

Poor Hamster

A man goes to the vet with a hamster. It’s cold and very, very still, and the man looks desperate.

“You have to help me!” he says to the vet. “It’s Hammy the Hamster! He’s very ill.”

The vet takes a look, gets his stethoscope out and checks. He replies, “I’m so sorry. I’m afraid this hamster is dead.”

“Nooooo!” cries the man. “Not Hammy! He can’t be! He was running around just fine this morning!”

“I’m afraid he is dead, sir. I’m terribly sorry.”

“I don’t believe you! I want a second opinion!” shouts the man. He’s obviously very agitated.

“If you’re sure, sir.” replies the vet, and opens a door. A small tabby cat walks into the room, jumps up on the examination table, and looks at the hamster. He pokes it a bit with his paw, licks the hamster in the face, and looks up at the vet and shakes his head.

“I’m afraid that’s conclusive, sir.” says the vet, as the tabby jumped down and walked out of the door. “This hamster is dead.”

“I can’t take it in!” shouts the man. He’s even more agitated. “I still don’t believe you. Isn’t there anything else you can do to check?”

“If you’re sure, sir.” says the vet and opens another door. This time, a labrador walks in, hops up on the examination table, and looks at the hamster. He nuzzles it with his nose, sniffs it carefully, and looks up at the vet with big, sad eyes and shakes his head.

“I’m so very sorry sir.” says the vet. The man looks defeated.

“I suppose it must be true.” says the man.

“I’m afraid so. And I have some more bad news - that’s going to be $1200.00.”

“What? You’re charging me that much just to tell me my hamster is dead?”

“Well, it would have been free, sir - but you did insist on the cat scan and the lab work.”

Dieting

A man is terribly overweight, so his doctor puts him on a diet.

“I want you to eat regularly for 2 days, then skip a day, and repeat this procedure for two weeks. The next time I see you, you’ll have lost at least 5 pounds.”

When the man returns, he shocks the doctor by losing nearly twenty pounds.

“Why, that’s amazing!” the doctor says, “Did you follow my instructions?”

The man nods. “I’ll tell you, though, I thought I was going to drop dead that third day.”

“From hunger, you mean?”

“No, from all the skipping.”

Johnny

Geometry

A teacher asks, “Johnny, make up a sentence using the word, ‘geometry.’”

Johnny replies, “An acorn grew until it finally looked at itself one day and said, ‘Gee, I’m a tree.’”

Beans

A teacher asks her students to use the word “beans” in a sentence.

“My father grows beans,” says one girl. “My mother cooks beans,” says a boy.

Johnny speaks up, “We are all human beans.”

Home Early

One day, Johnny gets home early from school and his mom asks, “Why are you home so early?”

He answers, “Because I was the only one that answered a question in my class.”

His mom says, “Wow! My son is a genius! What was the question?”

Johnny replies, “The question was ‘Who threw the trash can at the principal?’”

Stupid

A teacher says to his class one day, “Anyone who thinks they’re stupid, please stand up.”

Nobody stands up, so the teacher says, “I’m sure there are some students in this class that think they’re stupid!”

At this point, Johnny stands up.

The teacher says, “Oh Johnny! So you think you’re stupid then?”

Johnny replies, “No, I just feel bad that you are standing up on your own.”

Poor Johnny

Mr. Smith, a very wealthy man, is in town on business. Towards the end of his trip, he decides to take a walk on the docks to take in the ocean view.

As he’s walking, he comes upon a young boy, maybe twelve years old, crying on the edge of the dock. Mr. Smith hesitates, but decides to ask what’s wrong.

“Excuse me, son? Why are you crying?” he asks gently.

The boy wipes away his tears and replies, “Oh, there’s just a lot of things going wrong in my life right now. I’m sorry if I bothered you.”

Mr. Smith takes note of the boy's politeness, "Is there anything I can do to help? Why don't you tell me what's going on..."

With that, the boy breaks down and sobs. He starts describing his troubles. His mother is dying of cancer and can't work. They can't afford the medicine to manage her symptoms. They haven't eaten in days. Not even an hour ago, the boy had been caught dumpster diving behind a restaurant for food and was caned by the owner. He tried to go home to his mother, but when he got there, he saw an eviction notice on the door, and he just couldn't bring himself to go inside to give her the news. Everything is falling apart, and he can't take it. "So I came here and cried," he finished.

Mr. Smith is shocked. Of all the people he could have encountered, he encountered this boy. He could solve this boy's problems with a single cheque. But Mr. Smith is a firm believer in earning what you get, no matter what it is. As the boy continued to cry, Mr. Smith looked out to the water.

"Son," Mr. Smith begins, "what's your name?"

"My name is Johnny," the boy says.

"Johnny, you see that ship out there," he says, gesturing to a ship about a mile out from the dock. "I'll make you a deal. If you can swim out to that ship, climb up the mast, and wave to me, I will write you a check for one million dollars."

Johnny is awestruck. "You really mean it?!"

"Absolutely," Mr. Smith confirms.

Johnny dives into the water without a word and swims like a madman. Mr. Smith watches with a smile on his face, but his smile fades when Johnny turned around and came back. When Johnny reaches the dock, he explains he got too tired too quickly and knew he wouldn't make it.

"Well that's ok, Johnny. Tomorrow, let's meet here, same time, and you can try again."

The next day, they meet and Johnny tries again, but once again he gets fatigued and has to turn back. Mr. Smith asks him if he'd eaten anything. Johnny tells him he hadn't. With that, Mr. Smith gives him money for a meal and tells Johnny tomorrow is his last day in town. If Johnny is going to succeed, it has to be tomorrow.

The next day, Mr. Smith arrives and Johnny is waiting at the dock with a smile on his face. "You all fed and ready?" Mr. Smith asks.

"Yes sir," says Johnny. With that, Johnny dives into the water. This time he swims a bit slower. He seems to be pacing himself.

Mr. Smith watched Johnny get further and further, and his smile grows and grows. What a perfect end to a perfect trip, he thinks. He is going to make a difference in this boy's life.

Johnny makes it to the ship. Mr. Smith watches him climb up the mast. Johnny holds on with one hand. He reaches the other out and starts to wave victoriously, but suddenly he loses his grip! Johnny slips and falls from the top of the mast all the way down to the ship below. He lands with a loud dull thud that echoes in the distance...

But Johnny survives without injury. Do you know why?

...

...

He's used to hardships.

Blind

Golf

A priest, a doctor, and an engineer are waiting one morning for a particularly slow group of golfers. The engineer fumes, “What’s with those guys? We must have been waiting for 15 minutes!”

The doctor chimes in, “I don’t know, but I’ve never seen such inept golf!”

The priest says, “Here comes the greens-keeper. Let’s ask him what’s going on.”

He says, “Hello, George. What’s wrong with that group ahead of us? They’re rather slow and are having a lot of trouble.”

The greens-keeper replies, “Oh, yes. That’s a group of blind firemen. They lost their sight saving our clubhouse from a fire last year, so we always let them play for free any time.”

The group falls silent for a moment.

The priest says, “That’s so sad. I will say a special prayer for them tonight.”

The doctor says, "Good idea. I'll contact my ophthalmologist colleague and see if there's anything she can do for them."

The engineer says, "Why can't they play at night?"

Skydiving

Why don't blind people go skydiving?

Because it scares the heck out of their dogs.

How does a blind skydiver know when to pull his chute?

When his seeing eye dog's leash goes slack.

In a Store

A blind guy walks into a store and starts swinging his seeing eye dog around his head. An employee comes over and nervously asks if he can help. The blind guy replies, "No thanks. I'm just looking around."

Drinks with Dogs

Two men meet in a park while walking their dogs and start chatting. They hit it off, and after a bit, one says to the other, "Let's going grab a drink in that bar!"

The other says, "I'd love to, but I hate leaving my dog outside."

The first man replies, "Just follow my lead!"

He puts on a pair of dark sunglasses, and walks into the bar with his dog. The bartender immediately stops him and says, "I'm sorry sir, but we don't allow dogs in this bar." The man replies, "This is my seeing eye dog. I need him with me." The bartender lets him have a seat.

The second man decides to try this great strategy. He follows suit with his own sunglasses. The bartender stops him. The second man uses the same seeing eye dog line, but the bartender doesn't buy it.

"Sir, chihuahuas are not seeing eye dogs!"

To which the second man is incredulous, "WHAT?! THEY GAVE ME A CHIHUAHUA?!"

The Law and Law Breakers

The Man Who Loves Trains

A man in Bulgaria drives a train for a living. He loves his job; driving a train had been his dream ever since he was a child. He loves to make the train go as fast as possible. Unfortunately, one day he is a little too reckless and causes a crash. He makes it out, but a single person dies. Of course, he goes to court over this incident. He is found guilty, and is sentenced to death by electrocution. When the day of the execution comes, he requests a single banana as his last meal. After eating the banana, the executioner straps him into the electric chair. The executioner throws the switch, sparks fly, and smoke fills the air - but nothing happens. The man sits there, perfectly fine.

Well, there is an old Bulgarian law that says a failed execution is a sign of divine intervention, so the court allows the man to go free. And somehow, he manages to get his old job back driving the train. Having not learned his lesson at all, he goes right back to driving the train with reckless abandon. Once again, he causes the train to crash, this time killing two people. The new trial goes much the same as the first, resulting in a sentence of execution. For his final meal, the man requests two bananas. After eating the bananas, the executioner straps the man into the electric chair. The executioner throws the switch, sparks fly, smoke fills the room - and the man sits there, once again unharmed.

Well, this of course means that he is free to go. And once again, he somehow manages to get his old job back. To what should have been the surprise of no one, he crashes yet another train and kills three people. And so, he once again finds himself being sentenced to death. On the day of his execution, he requested his final meal - three bananas.

“You know what? No!” says the executioner. “I’ve had it with you, your stupid bananas, and walking out of here unharmed. I’m not giving you a thing to eat. We’re strapping you in and doing this now.” It’s against protocol, but the executioner straps the man into the electric chair without a last meal. The executioner throws the switch, sparks fly, and smoke fills the room - and the man sits there unharmed. The executioner is speechless.

The man looks at the executioner and says, “Oh, the bananas have nothing to do with it. I’m just a bad conductor.”

Penguins in a Car

A cop sits on the side of the road, checking for speeders. Car flies by, the cop sees twelve penguins in the back of a car. The cop hits his sirens and pulls the guy over.

He runs up to the car’s window and yells, “What are you doing with twelve penguins in the back of your car?!”

The guy says “...I dunno...”

Cop replies, “Well, I think you should bring those penguins to the zoo!”

“OK!” the guy replies.

The next day, the same cop sits on the side of the road again. The same car flies by with twelve penguins in the back.

The cop hits the sirens, and pulls the guy over again. He runs up to the car's window.

"I THOUGHT I TOLD YOU TO BRING THOSE PENGUINS TO THE ZOO!"

Guy replies "I already did! And now we're going to the movies!"

Speeding Pope

One day, the pope is super early for his flight. He asks his driver on his way to the airport if he could drive around for a while, because they have time to kill, and because he hasn't driven a car since becoming pope. Naturally, he's a bit rusty, and driving is exciting. He's driving very fast, when suddenly he sees police lights behind him. He pulls over, and, when the officer comes up to the window, the officer's eyes go wide. He says to the pope, "Hold on a minute." The officer goes back to his car to radio the chief.

He says to the chief, "Chief, we have a situation. I've pulled over an important figure."

The chief replies, "How important? A governor, or something?"

The cop says, "No sir. He's bigger."

The chief replies, "Bigger?! A celebrity or something?"

The cop says, "More important, sir."

The chief replies, "A major politician?"

The cop says, “No sir, he’s much more important.”

The chief replies, “WELL, WHO IS IT!?”

The cop says, “Well... actually, I’m not sure. But the pope’s his driver.”

Unlicensed Fishing

A game warden catches an unlicensed fisherman in the act. “You’re going to pay a big fine for all those fish in your bucket.”

The fisherman replies, “But, officer, I didn’t catch these - they’re my pet fish, and I just bring them here to swim. When they’re done, they jump back into the bucket.”

The warden says, “Oh really? This I’ve got to see. If you can prove it, I’ll let you go.”

The fisherman empties the bucket into the lake and waits patiently. A few minutes go by and nothing happens. The game warden says, “So where are the fish?”

The fisherman replies, “What fish?”

Driving Nuns

Sitting on the side of the rural highway, waiting to catch speeding drivers, a state police officer sees a car puttering along at 22 mph. He thinks to himself, “This driver is just as dangerous as a speeder!”. He turns on his lights, and pulls the driver over.

Approaching the car, he notices that four very old nuns sitting in it. One in the front seat, driving, and three in the back - wide-eyed and white as ghosts. The driver, obviously confused, says to him, “Officer, I don’t understand. I was doing exactly the speed limit! What seems to be the problem?”

“Sister,” says the officer, “You weren’t speeding, but you should know that driving slower than the speed limit can also be a danger to other drivers”.

“Slower than the speed limit? No sir, I was doing the speed limit exactly... twenty-two miles per hour!” the elderly nun says, a bit proudly.

The state police officer, trying to contain a chuckle, explains to her that “22” is the route number, not the speed limit. A bit embarrassed, the nun grins and thanks the police officer for pointing out her error.

“But before I let you go ma’am, I have to ask... Is everyone in this car ok? Your sisters seem awfully shaken, and they haven’t uttered a single peep this whole time,” the officer asks.

“Oh, they will be alright in a minute officer, we just got off Route 119.”

Snobbish Criminal

What do you call a snobbish criminal walking downstairs?

A condescending con descending.

Escaped Medium

What do you call a midget psychic who just escaped from prison?

A small medium at large.

Time

Clock Food

Have you ever tried to eat a clock?

It's very time consuming, but you always go back for seconds.

Best Time

6:30 is the best time on the clock - hands down.

Dentist

When is the best time to go to the dentist? Tooth hurty.

Hungry Clock

What does a clock do when it's hungry?

It goes back four seconds!

Girl on a Clock

Why did the girl sit on a clock?

To be on time!

Science Humor

Trust

Never trust an atom... They make up everything.

Two Atoms

Two atoms are walking down the street together. The first atom turns and says, "Hey, you just stole an electron from me!"

"Are you sure?" asks the second atom.

To which the first atom replies, "Yeah, I'm positive!"

Neutron's Drink

A neutron walks into a bar and asks, "How much for a drink?"

To which the bartender replies, "For you, no charge."

Neutrino

A neutrino walks through a bar.

Tachyon

The bartender says, “We don’t service time travelers here.” A tachyon walks into a bar.

Higgs Boson

A Higgs boson walks into a cathedral. The priest, furious, storms up to the Higgs boson and demands that it leave.

“You call yourself the God particle! That’s sacrilege, and I insist you leave immediately!”

The Higgs boson smugly asks, “Well, if you don’t allow Higgs bosons, then how do you have mass?”

Bacterium

A bacterium walks into a restaurant, ignores everyone, and walks straight into the kitchen. The cook looks over and sees him.

“Hey, you can’t be back here! Employees only.”

The bacteria responds, “It’s okay, I’m staph.”

Germs

Did you hear the one about the germ?

Never mind, I don’t want to spread it around

Photon

A photon checks into a hotel, and the bellhop asks if he needs any help with his luggage.

The photon says, “No thanks, I’m traveling light!”

Helium

Helium walks into a bar. The bartender says, “Hey, we don’t serve noble gasses here. Get out!” Helium doesn’t react.

Math Help

What did the math book say to its therapist?

“I’ve got a lot of problems...”

Astronomer

Why did the astronomer dump ground beef on his head?

He wanted a meatier shower!

10 Types of People

There are 10 types of people in the world, those who know binary, those who don’t know binary, ... and those who weren’t expecting a base-3 joke.

2 times 2

What’s 2 times 2?

Physicist: “After some measurements, I am fairly sure it is somewhere between 3.81 and 4.13!”

Mathematician: “After some consideration, I can now prove that the solution exists!”

Engineer: “4, obviously, but lets make it 5, just to be on the safe side.”

Recursion

To understand what recursion is, you must first understand recursion.

Pavlov

Pavlov opens the front door to a bar. As he does, a bell above the door sounds.

He immediately turns around and says “Uh oh, it’s time to feed the dogs!”

Genetics

Why is diarrhea genetic?

Because it runs through your jeans.

Mathematicians vs. Physicists

Two physicists are traveling in a hot-air balloon and suddenly realize that they’re lost. They shout down to a guy in the meadow, “Where are we?”

The guy thinks for a bit, and then replies, “You’re in a hot-air balloon.”

One physicist says to the other, “Well, he’s definitely a mathematician.”

“Why do you say that?”

“Well first of all, he took a while to think up a response. Second of all, his answer is perfectly logical. Third of all, his answer is completely useless.”

Moon Rocks

Why does a moon rock taste better than an earth rock?

It's a little meteor.

Relativity

Einstein is on a train leaving New York. He leans over to another passenger and asks, "Excuse me, do you know when Boston stops at this train?"

Mathematicians vs. Engineers

A group of mathematicians and a group of engineers are traveling together by train to attend a conference on mathematical methods in engineering. Each engineer has a ticket whereas only one of the mathematicians has one. Of course, the engineers laugh at the unworldly mathematicians, and look forward to the moment the conductor shows up.

Suddenly one of the mathematicians shouts: "Conductor coming!" All the mathematicians disappear into one washroom.

The conductor checks the ticket of each engineer, and then knocks on the washroom door, saying, "Your ticket, please." The mathematicians stick the one ticket they have under the door, the conductor checks it and leaves. A few minutes later, when it's safe, the mathematicians come out of the washroom. The engineers are impressed.

When the conference comes to an end, the engineers decide that they are at least as smart as the mathematicians and also buy just one ticket for the whole group. This time the mathematicians have no ticket at all...

Again, one of the mathematicians shouts, “Conductor coming!”

All the engineers rush off to one washroom. One of the mathematicians goes to that washroom, knocks at the door, and says, “Your ticket, please...”

Spaceman

What do you do when you see a spaceman?

You park your car, man!

King Farts

How come nobody reacted when the king farted?

It was a noble gas.

Athletes Foot

If athletes get athletes’ foot, what do astronauts get?

Missile toe.

Numbers say...

What did 0 say to 8?

Nice belt.

What did 8 say to infinity?

How come you are always lying down?

What did 8 say to 3?

“ARE YOU OKAY?!! I’LL GET YOU TO A HOSPITAL! JUST HOLD ON!”

Programmers

How many programmers does it take to change a light bulb?

None. That’s a hardware problem.

He rings the bell and the owner tells him the dog is in the back yard. The guy goes into the back yard and sees a labrador retriever sitting there.

"You talk?" the man asks. "Yes, I do," the lab replies.

"So, what's your story?"

The lab looks up and says, “Well, I discovered that I could talk when I was pretty young. I wanted to help the country, so I told the CIA about my gift. In no time at all, they had me jetting from country to country, sitting in rooms with spies and world leaders, because no one figured a dog would be eavesdropping. I was one of their most valuable spies for eight years running. But the jetting around really tired me out, and I knew I wasn’t getting any younger, so I decided to settle down. I signed up for a job at the airport to do some undercover security wandering near suspicious characters and listening in. I uncovered some incredible dealings and was awarded a batch of medals. I got married, had a mess of puppies, and now I’m just retired.”

The guy is amazed. He goes back in and asks the owner what he wants for the dog.

“Ten dollars.”

“Ten dollars? This dog is amazing! Why on earth are you selling him so cheap?!”

“Because he’s a liar. He never did any of that stuff!”

Tales About People

Ferrari vs. Moped

A hip young man goes out and buys the best car available, a brand-new red Ferrari LaFerrari supercar. It is also the most expensive car in the world, and it costs him 2.7 million dollars. He takes it out for a spin and stops for a red light.

An old man, about 75 years old, on a moped pulls up next to him. The old man looks over at the sleek, red, shiny new car and asks, “What kind of car ya got there, sonny?”

The young man replies, “A Ferrari LaFerrari supercar. It cost 2.7 million dollars!”

“That’s a lot of money,” says the old man. “Why does it cost so much?”

“Because this car can do up to 217 miles an hour!” states the young man proudly. The old man asks, “Mind if I take a look inside?”

“No problem,” replies the owner.

The old guy pokes his head in the window and looks around. Then, sitting back on his moped, he says, “That’s a pretty nice car, all right... but I’ll stick with my little moped!”

Then the light changes, so the young guy decides to show the old man just what his car can do. He floors it, and within 30 seconds the speedometer reads 120 mph. Suddenly, he notices a dot in his rearview mirror. It seems to be getting closer! He slows down to see what it could be, and suddenly, WHHHOOOOSSSHHH! Something whips by him, going much faster.

“What on earth could be going faster than my Ferrari?!” the young man asks himself. He floors the accelerator and takes the Ferrari up to 160 mph. Then, up ahead of him, he sees that it’s the old man on the moped.

Amazed that the moped could pass his Ferrari, he gives it some more gas and passes the moped at 180 mph. WHHHOOOOSSSHH! He’s feeling pretty good until he looks in his mirror and sees the old man gaining on him again. Astounded by the speed of this old guy, he floors the gas pedal and takes the LaFerrari all the way up to 217 mph.

Not 10 seconds later, he sees the moped bearing down on him again. The Ferrari is flat out and there’s nothing he can do.

The young man slows down and pulls over. The old man follows, but looks white as a ghost and is completely out of breath. The young man stammers, “H-h-how did you keep up with my La-Ferrari?!” The old man whispers “Unhook... my... suspenders... from... your... side-view... mirror.”
